

Tucson City Council

These are the citizens who represent Tucson ideas and civil concerns in city government. Letters get more attention but phone calls are more immediate. Emails can be flagged as spam. A single postage stamp currently costs $0.55.

NOTE: If you call, you may NOT get to speak to the elected official directly on the phone, but a staff member will likely answer. So be prepared with a concise message and speak it clearly so the staff member can relay what you have to say.
